

Common Human Resource Information Standards

Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier

Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier is the Uniformed Service unique identifier for the military unit to which a DoD Military Service member is temporarily assigned.

Permitted Values

Reference Element : Air Force Personnel Accounting System
Reference Element : Army Unit Identifier Code
Reference Element : Marine Corps Reporting Unit Code
Reference Element : Navy Unit Identifier Code

Structural Business Rules

A DoD Military Service member may have only one Member Temporary Military Unit Assignment Reason, Member Temporary Military Unit Arrival Date, Member Temporary Military Unit Departure Date, and Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier for each Temporary Duty although they may have more than one Member Temporary Military Unit at a time.

A Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier must have only one associated Member Temporary Military Unit Arrival Date and one associated Member Temporary Military Unit Assignment Reason.

A Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier must have only one associated Member Temporary Military Unit Departure Date upon completion of a temporary assignment.

A Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier must have only one associated Military Unit Identifier.

A DoD Military Service member may have only one Member Temporary Military Unit Identifier for each temporary assignment.

Reference Documents

DoDI 1120.11, Para. 5.2.1.1

PII	Owner	Steward
No	OSD P&R	OSD P&R IM